About Us

Agrawal Metal Works, founded in 1945, has become a leading manufacturer of Copper and Copper Alloy products in India, known for its high-quality manufacturer of Copper and Copper alloys sheets, strips, foils and ingots. We have built a reputation for excellence by consistently delivering best-in-class solutions to our customers and carving a unique path in the Indian market, while expanding into the global arena. Our commitment to innovation and quality drives us to exceed customer expectations, making Agrawal a trusted name in the industry.

At Agrawal Metal Works, we recognize our responsibility toward environmental protection, especially as a manufacturer in a labor- and energy-intensive sector. We have integrated sustainability into our operations, adhering to a “Zero” Discharge Policy through advanced Effluent Treatment Plants (ETP) and Sewage Treatment Plants (STP), while maintaining a dedicated Air Pollution Control System to ensure high air quality standards. Environmental protection is a priority in our corporate decisions, reflecting our commitment to preserving natural resources and promoting eco-friendly practices.

Our success is built on the hard work and dedication of our employees. We believe in fostering a positive work environment where every team member is valued and encouraged to grow professionally. By providing opportunities for development and recognizing their contributions, we ensure that our employees remain motivated and engaged. Together, we uphold Agrawal Metal Works’ values of excellence, integrity, and sustainability, driving our continued success in both the domestic and international markets.

OUR VISION

To become a global leader in the premium metals manufacturing industry, excelling in all aspects of operations and delivering sustainable value for stakeholders.

OUR MISSION

To relentlessly pursue the creation of superior shareholder value by exceeding customer expectations profitably, unleashing employee potential, and acting as a responsible corporate citizen, while adhering to our core values."

Overview

The Agrawal Metal Works Employee Handbook serves as a comprehensive guide to our company's policies, practices, and expectations, designed to empower you in your role and foster a positive workplace culture. Central to this handbook is our Code of Business Conduct and Ethics, which articulates our commitment to the highest standards of integrity and professionalism in every aspect of our operations. This Code applies to all employees, including directors and officers, setting forth principles that go beyond standard commercial practices and legal requirements. It is essential that every employee adheres to these elevated standards of personal and professional integrity, as strict compliance with the Code is a condition of employment. Managers are entrusted with the responsibility of implementing and effectively communicating the Code to their teams, ensuring that everyone understands their obligations.

In addition to outlining our ethical standards, this handbook provides clear and detailed guidelines that support you in performing your role with clarity and confidence. It emphasizes our core values of professionalism, respect, and collaboration, which are vital to our success as a company. At Agrawal Metal Works, we believe in recognizing and rewarding the efforts of our employees, as your contributions are crucial to our ongoing growth and innovation. We are committed to creating an environment where teamwork and mutual support thrive, enabling us to achieve continued success together.

By adhering to the principles and guidelines outlined in this handbook, you play a vital role in upholding our company's mission and values. Together, we can foster a workplace culture that prioritizes ethical behavior, excellence, and sustainability, ensuring that Agrawal Metal Works remains a trusted leader in the industry for years to come.

2. Attendance and Punctuality

All workmen are required to report to the factory at the designated time. Late attendance may result in the employee being shut out and treated as absent, with deductions made in accordance with the Payment of Wages Act, 1936. No workman will be permitted to enter the factory more than thirty minutes after the scheduled start time, except with permission from the Manager or an authorized officer. A grace period of five minutes may be allowed, with a maximum of fifteen minutes per week. Any workman who checks in but is found to be absent from their designated work area during working hours, without permission or sufficient reason, will face disciplinary action in accordance with these standing orders. Furthermore, no workman is permitted to leave the factory premises during working hours without special permission from the Manager or an authorized officer. If a workman leaves before the prescribed time without written permission, they will be marked absent for the entire day if their absence begins before the scheduled rest interval and may also face disciplinary action. If a workman is required to leave the premises during working hours for duty, they must present an outgoing duty slip signed by an authorized person to the time officer or security, and record the exit in the outgoing register maintained at the gate for this purpose.

3. Entry, exit and liability for search

   a) Every workman must enter and exit the factory premises through designated gates. Any attempt to defy the watch and ward arrangements or to use unauthorized pathways will be considered misconduct. The gates may be closed during working hours at the discretion of the Manager or an authorized person.
   b) Workmen are subject to search at any time when entering or leaving the factory and during their duty hours by any person authorized by the Manager. Any objectionable items found in the possession of a workman will be confiscated, and the individual may face disciplinary action under these standing orders and/or applicable laws. Female workmen will only be searched by a female searcher, and this will be done in the presence of another female worker.
   c) For the purpose of this policy, the term "workman" includes the individual themselves, their personal apparel, tiffin carriers, similar belongings, and vehicles of conveyance along with their attachments.

d) No workman is allowed to carry cameras, mobile phones, binoculars, transistors, notebooks, diaries, lethal weapons, or any other items deemed unnecessary for their duties within the factory. If a workman wishes to carry any such article into the factory, they must obtain written permission from the security officer on duty and have the item entered in the security register upon entering the factory.
e) The company is not responsible for the loss of or damage to any personal property brought onto the factory premises. Workmen are prohibited from taking notes, drawings, sketches, or copies of official documents without written permission from the Manager.

7. Shift Working

- In accordance with the provisions of the Factories Act, 1948, Agrawal Metal Works operates multiple shifts across all departments and sections of the factory. Employees may be transferred between shifts as necessary to meet operational requirements.
- Should there be a need to discontinue shift work, a notice of 21 days will be provided to the affected employees. If the discontinuation results in the discharge of any permanent employees, such decisions will be made based on the length of service within the factory, with those having the shortest tenure being discharged first.
- If shift work is resumed, a week's notice will be given, which will be posted at the main entrance of the factory. Employees who were discharged due to the previous discontinuation of shifts will be given preference for re-employment, based on their length of service, with those having the longest tenure being re-employed first.
- Additionally, management retains the discretion to operate the factory seven days a week as required by business needs, in accordance with the provisions of the Factories Act, 1948. Should the factory revert to a six-day workweek, employees deemed surplus to requirements will be treated in accordance with the guidelines established for the discontinuation of shift work.

8. Notice of changes in Shift working

- Any notice of discontinuance or of restarting of a shift working shall be in shift change form and shall be served in the following manner, namely the notice shall be displayed conspicuously by the employer on a notice board at the main entrance of the establishment provided that where any workmen can easily see the update.

1.6 Transfers

- A workman may be transferred according to exigencies of work from one department to another or from the one station to another or from the establishment to another under the same employer provided that the wages, grade, continuity of service and other conditions of services of the workman are not adversely affected by such transfers
- Also provided further that a workman is transferred from one job to another, which he is capable of doing, and provided also that where the transfer involves moving from one state to another such transfer shall take place, where there is a specific provision to that effect in the letter of appointment, and provided also that (i) reasonable notice is given to such workmen and (ii) reasonable joining time is allowed in case of transfers for one station to another. - Prior to the commencement of travel, an employee is required to submit Outdoor Gate Pass for travel to HR section so that leave is not marked in ERP. This Gate pass is required to be submitted before proceeding for travel. In case the same could not be submitted in advance, the same should be virtually submitted before end of that calendar month i.e. before processing payroll cycle of that month.
- Each departmental head is responsible for all travel expenses in his department, and should ensure compliance with policy and budget.

2.2 Booking Travel

- All travel bookings should be made through HR/ Administration Department of the Company as per the eligibility of the individuals traveling on Company business. Person in charge should ensure that corporate rates are fully leveraged for all transport and accommodation requirement.

2.3 Travel Advance

- Payment of advance against travel is normally discouraged.
- In case an advance is to be paid, the employee is required to submit the Travel Advance Form to the Accounts Department duly approved by the concerned authority at least two working days prior to the proposed date of travel.
- In general, the travel advance amount should not exceed the total eligibility towards hotel accommodation (if the employee has to settle the bill himself), meals and incidental allowances for the travel being undertaken. Any travel advance should be drawn from the location where the employee is based.
- If, for any reason the proposed travel is not undertaken, the advance taken should be returned immediately to the Accounts Department.

General Principles and Procedure for Grant of Leave

- All leaves are granted at the discretion of the Management. Nothing can limit the discretion of the management to refuse, revoke or curtail leave subject to the exigencies of work.
- An employee who desires to avail of leave has to make an application in the prescribed Leave Form or through e-HR (Leave Management System).
- Application for leave of absence for three days or less should ordinarily be made at least 24 hours prior to the beginning of the period for which leave is required. Such leave application is to be disposed of immediately.
- Application for leave of absence for more than three days shall ordinarily be made at least 7 days before the date from which the leave is required. The leave application in such cases is to be disposed of within three day.
- An employee who desires to extend his leave shall make an application in writing to the leave sanctioning authority before the expiry of the leave already sanctioned. If the application for leave is on the medical ground she has to submit a medical certificate issued by the Registered Medical Practitioner stating the probable period for which leave is required.
- Employees separating from company's service may, if they so desire, get their notice period adjusted against earned leave due to them on the date of resignation.
- The Management can recall a workman on duty before the expiry of his sanctioned leave period.
- In case of sudden calamity, accident or other unforeseen reasons beyond the control of the workman, the Management may grant leave on the basis of past facts with or without pay, provided that an application for leave has been made later on the second day of his absence.
- No persons shall leave station even on holidays without prior permission of his immediate officer.
- No leave shall be granted to a workman who is under suspension.
- In case workman abandons his services or is deemed to have abandoned his services, it will be taken as his resignation from the services, of the establishment.
- If a workman is convicted for any offence and/or sent to jail and applies for leave, the Management will not be bound to grant him leave. His services may be terminated by the management for his absence from duty unauthorizedly. Arrest of a workman and detention in Jail custody shall normally not be considered as a Justifiable cause of absence.

    4. Financial Planning.
- These programs include workshops, seminars, and family events aimed at enhancing employee well-being and family engagement.

- Employees are encouraged to participate actively and provide suggestions for future topics and activities.

6. Training & Development

6.1 Skill & Competency Assessment

- The Skill and Competency Assessment aims to evaluate the capabilities of employees against the requirements of their roles, ensuring that the organization maintains a skilled and efficient workforce. Difference between desired and actual skill can be identified with Skill Gap Analysis. It is an essential tool for Training Need Identification, Recruitment, Probation Assessment, Performance Assessment etc.

Assessment	Immediate Reporting Officer / 1st Line Manager to whom employees are reporting directly for day-to-day operations is responsible for Skill Assessment. The competency assessment however will be conducted by the HOD.
Review / Approval	Head of Department is responsible for review of assessment done before final approval.

For each skill and competency, one needs to assess the person's proficiency. This can be grouped into four categories:

Beginner	who is new to the process and does not possess defined skill and competency
Intermediate	who is familiar with process and possesses defined skill and competency but requires supervision
Advanced	who is possesses defined skill and competency and can perform independently without any supervision
Expert	who can work independently and can train others also to perform

- Gap Analysis: Once both the required and the available skills and competencies are assessed, one can create the competency matrix. It helps to visualize what skills are available and what skills are missing. Based on the "Gap Analysis" the Training Needs can be identified [TNI], which will form the basis for the structured and time bound training calendar, prioritizing the most critical needs to be taken up ahead of other needs.

- Assessment Process: Assessment of skills, competencies and proficiency levels will be done in two steps:
  Step 1: Reporting Officer / Assessment Officer / Immediate Supervisor will assess skills of each team members based on pre-defined required skills and available skills. HOD will assess the competency gap and will prepare an Skill & Competency Matrix / Assessment Report.
  Step 2: The assessment report will be reviewed by Reviewing officer / Head of Department for final review and approval.

- Training Need Identification: After final report received from Reviewing Officer / Head of Department, HR Department will process further actions such as preparing the training calendar, scheduling the training, documentation, and personnel records etc.

- Assessment Period: Period for existing employees is of one year starting from October and ending in September of each year.

- Record Keeping: Department wise Skill & Competency Matrix / Assessment Report is to be submittedto HR Department after proper review and approval by Project In-charge / HOD.
