1. Introduction To CTX Lifesciences

1.1. Company Background

CTX Lifesciences Pvt. Ltd. is a pharmaceutical manufacturing company specializing in the development and production of Active Pharmaceutical Ingredients (APIs), pharmaceutical intermediates and specialty chemicals for global pharmaceutical markets. Established in 2004 in Surat, Gujarat, the company operates as part of the Colourtex Group, a well-established chemical manufacturing group with decades of industry expertise.

The organization operates integrated manufacturing facilities designed to support the research, development and large-scale production of pharmaceutical ingredients. With advanced infrastructure, modern technology and strong technical capabilities, CTX Lifesciences supports pharmaceutical companies worldwide in the production of safe and effective medicines.

The company's manufacturing operations follow internationally recognized regulatory standards and good manufacturing practices. Its facilities are designed to support efficient production, process optimization and scale-up capabilities, enabling the company to serve regulated pharmaceutical markets globally. Today, CTX Lifesciences supplies its products to customers across numerous countries, contributing to the global healthcare supply chain.

The organization continues to focus on innovation, operational excellence and regulatory compliance while expanding its capabilities in pharmaceutical manufacturing and contract development services.

1.2. Vision, Mission and Core Values

Vision

A preferred partner for the global pharmaceutical industry and share responsibilities for the enhancement of human health.

Mission

To develop and manufacture active pharmaceutical ingredients (APIs) and intermediates for global supply, complying with quality and regulatory requirements of our customer

Core Values

- Quality Commitment: Maintaining consistent product quality and adhering to international regulatory standards across all operations.
- Integrity and Ethical Conduct: Conducting business with transparency, accountability and strong ethical principles.
- Innovation and Continuous Improvement: Encouraging scientific advancement, operational improvements and innovative solutions in pharmaceutical manufacturing.
- People and Collaboration: Recognizing employees as the organization's most valuable resource and fostering teamwork, collaboration and professional development.
- Environmental and Social Responsibility: Operating responsibly while minimizing environmental impact and supporting sustainable industrial practices.

1.3. Organizational Culture and Workplace Principles

CTX Lifesciences promotes a workplace culture built on professionalism, collaboration and continuous learning. Employees are encouraged to actively participate in achieving organizational goals while maintaining high standards of quality, safety and ethical conduct.

The organization values open communication, teamwork and mutual respect among employees at all levels. By fostering an inclusive and supportive work environment, the company aims to empower employees to contribute ideas, improve processes and develop their professional capabilities.

A strong emphasis is placed on safety, regulatory compliance and responsible operations. Employees are expected to follow established procedures, uphold company policies and contribute to maintaining a productive and safe workplace.

Through the collective efforts of its workforce, CTX Lifesciences strives to strengthen its position as a reliable partner within the global pharmaceutical industry while continuing to deliver value to customers, employees and the wider community.

2. Quality, Compliance and Safety Commitment

2.1. Quality Assurance and Regulatory Compliance

Quality is a core operational priority at CTX Lifesciences. The company maintains a comprehensive Quality Management System (QMS) designed to ensure that all manufacturing, testing and operational processes meet established pharmaceutical standards and regulatory expectations.

Operations are conducted in accordance with applicable Good Manufacturing Practices (GMP) and other regulatory guidelines relevant to the pharmaceutical industry. These standards help ensure that all products manufactured by the organization consistently meet required specifications for safety, purity and effectiveness.

Employees at all levels are responsible for maintaining quality standards by following approved procedures, documenting activities accurately and promptly reporting any deviations or concerns that may affect product quality or regulatory compliance.

2.2. Environmental Responsibility

CTX Lifesciences committed to conducting its operations in an environmentally responsible manner. The organization strives to minimize environmental impact through responsible resource utilization, waste management and compliance with environmental regulations.
Environmental management practices focus on:

- Efficient use of natural resources such as energy and water
- Responsible handling and disposal of chemical substances and waste
- Continuous monitoring and improvement of environmental performance
- Compliance with applicable environmental laws and regulatory requirements

Employees are expected to support these initiatives by following environmental procedures and contributing to sustainable operational practices.

2.3. Workplace Conditions, Health, Safety and Security Standards

A safe and secure work environment is a cornerstone of our operations. We implement rigorous safety protocols and provide ongoing training to ensure employee well-being. By fostering a culture of responsibility, we aim to minimize risks and maintain a productive and compliant workplace for all.

1. Safe and Hygienic Workplace

- Workspaces are maintained to high standards of cleanliness, with proper ventilation, lighting and sanitation facilities.
- Regular safety and maintenance checks are conducted to ensure that machinery and infrastructure are reliable.

- First-aid supplies and clearly marked emergency exits are positioned in all operational areas.
- Ongoing employee training programs reinforce workplace hygiene and personal safety practices.

2. Safety Guidelines

Exposure to Hazardous Substances

- Where applicable, hazardous materials (e.g., catalysts, solvents) are stored in designated, ventilated areas with clear labeling and warning signs.
- Employees handling such materials receive thorough, task-specific training in their safe handling, disposal and emergency procedures.
- Appropriate PPE—like gloves, masks, protective clothing and eyewear—is provided and its usage strictly enforced.
- Engineering controls such as local exhaust ventilation are established at critical handling points to minimize exposure.
- Safety Data Sheets (SDS/MSDS) are maintained and accessible at all relevant workstations.
- Regular monitoring (including environmental sampling) and health surveillance ensure compliance with safety and occupational health standards.
- Spill response measures—including eyewash stations, emergency showers and spill kits—are available, supported by trained personnel.
- Job rotations are implemented for roles involving higher exposure to hazardous substances, reducing fatigue and health risks while promoting employee well-being.
- Only authorized and trained personnel are authorized to operate tools, equipment or handle hazardous materials. All necessary training and periodic refreshers are provided.

Ergonomics and Repetitive Strain Injury (RSI) Prevention

To minimize the risk of Repetitive Strain Injuries (RSI) and other musculoskeletal disorders, CTX LIFESCIENCES PVT. LTD. integrates ergonomic considerations into work design for all operational roles, including precision assembly, laboratory analysis, packaging and inspection.

- Employees receive task-specific instructions on safe working postures, correct handling techniques and proper use of equipment.
- Workstations are ergonomically designed or modified to ensure optimal seating height, work surface level and tool placement.
- Job rotation and scheduled stretch breaks are implemented to reduce prolonged strain on specific muscle groups.
- Workers are trained to identify and report early symptoms of RSI such as numbness, stiffness or discomfort.
- Ergonomic risk assessments are carried out during workstation setup, introduction of new equipment or changes in job tasks.
- Supervisors regularly observe and guide posture and ergonomics to prevent poor habits.
- Medical support and ergonomic consultations are available to employees experiencing discomfort or injury.

Protection from Climatic and Environmental Risks

- Indoor operations are conducted in climate-controlled or well-ventilated environments wherever feasible.
- Hydration facilities, shaded rest areas and thermal protection (heat or cold) are provided based on seasonal requirements.
- Adjusted work shifts and mandatory rest breaks are implemented to avoid times of extreme heat or cold, ensuring worker safety.

Security Measures

- Access Control: All employees must display valid company-issued ID cards to access CTX LIFESCIENCES PVT. LTD. premises. Visitors must sign in at the reception and follow visitor guidelines.
- Surveillance: CCTV systems are installed in key operational and administrative zones to safeguard personnel and assets.
- Personal Belongings: Employees are advised to store personal items in designated secure areas and refrain from bringing valuables to the workplace.

3. Emergency Preparedness & Awareness

- Supervisors and relevant personnel are trained to recognize and respond to symptoms of heat stress, cold stress, dehydration, chemical exposure and other environmental or occupational health hazards.
- Emergency action plans are in place and regularly rehearsed, with clear procedures for incidents such as chemical spills, fire outbreaks or other workplace emergencies.
- Emergency Preparedness:
    - Clearly marked fire exits are strategically located throughout all facilities and project sites to ensure quick visibility and accessibility during emergencies.
    - Emergency assembly points are designated in clearly identified open areas for safe gathering during evacuations.
    - First aid kits are positioned in strategic locations including reception areas, pantry zones, meeting spaces and project sites.
    - All employees are trained on emergency protocols and regular evacuation drills are conducted to reinforce preparedness and ensure quick, coordinated response during real incidents.
    - For detailed procedures, refer to CTX LIFESCIENCES PVT. LTD.'s Emergency Preparedness Document.

Location	Details
Fire Exits	Strategically located and marked for quick visibility and accessibility
Emergency Assembly Points	Clearly identified open areas for gathering during evacuations
First Aid Kits	Available in reception areas, pantry zones, meeting spaces and project sites

- Accident Reporting:
  - All incidents, near-misses or unsafe conditions must be reported immediately to the HSE (Health, Safety & Environment) Officer through any of the following channels:
    - Email: safety@ctxls.com
    - Contact No: +91-261-2399669
    - In Person: Site Safety Desks
  - Prompt reporting ensures timely corrective action, accurate incident tracking and prevention of future risks.

Grievance Mechanism on Working Conditions

CTX LIFESCIENCES PVT. LTD. has an established grievance mechanism to ensure that all employees can report concerns related to working hours, wages and social benefits in a safe, confidential and accessible manner. Refer Topic 12.2 Grievance Redressal Mechanism for the detailed procedure.

- Accessibility: All employees are informed about the grievance process during onboarding and via workplace postings in local languages. Reports can be submitted in person, via email to hrd@ctxls.com or through designated suggestion boxes placed in common areas.

Even conduct that may seem subtle or not overtly severe is unacceptable and may result in disciplinary action.

Anti-Harassment Committee and it's Role

The company has established a formal Anti-Harassment Committee (AHC) tasked with preventing, investigating and responding to any complaints of workplace harassment, in a fair, transparent and timely manner.

Committee Composition

The AHC is constituted to reflect diversity, impartiality, sensitivity and includes:

- Chairperson: A senior female employee with a record of integrity and commitment to upholding respectful workplace values.
- Two Employee Representatives: From different departments and levels, with training in grievance handling, gender sensitivity and conflict resolution.
- External Member: An independent individual (e.g., HR expert) with relevant experience in harassment prevention and redressal, to provide unbiased oversight.

- Optional Advisory Member(s): Experts may be consulted for specific cases (e.g., disability rights, caste discrimination) to ensure an inclusive and well-informed approach.

At least 50% of the committee members are women and representation reflects the diversity of the workforce to promote trust and accessibility.

Key Roles and Responsibilities

- Prevention: Promote awareness and prevention of all forms of harassment through training, policy communication and employee engagement.
- Complaint Handling: Receive and register complaints of harassment confidentially from any employee (irrespective of gender, role or location).
- Investigation: Conduct a thorough, impartial and time-bound inquiry following principles of natural justice.
- Interim Support: Recommend protective or relief measures (e.g., changes in reporting lines, temporary transfers, medical or counselling support) during the investigation process.
- Resolution & Remediation: Recommend appropriate disciplinary or corrective actions based on inquiry findings and facilitate employee support post-resolution.
- Monitoring: Ensure follow-up with affected individuals to verify resolution and prevent recurrence.
- Reporting: Maintain internal records and submit periodic reports to management for review and accountability, while preserving employee confidentiality.

Scope

The Anti-Harassment Committee is empowered to address but not limited to:

- Verbal, physical or written harassment
- Discriminatory conduct (based on gender, caste, religion, disability, age, etc.)
- Psychological bullying or intimidation
- Any form of inappropriate or abusive behaviour within the office, on field assignments or during remote work

The Committee operates in coordination with the company's grievance redressal system and upholds a strict zero-tolerance stance towards retaliation against complainants or witnesses.

Zero Tolerance for Retaliation

CTX Lifesciences maintains a strict zero-tolerance policy on retaliation. Employees who report harassment or participate in investigations are protected from any adverse consequences.

Reporting Procedure

Employees are encouraged to report any harassment incidents to their immediate supervisor or the Anti-Harassment Committee. All complaints will be addressed promptly, confidentially and sensitively.

Disciplinary Measures

If a complaint is substantiated, CTX Lifesciences will take appropriate disciplinary action depending on the severity of the misconduct. Actions may include formal warnings, counselling, suspension or termination of employment.

Remediation Procedure

CTX LIFESCIENCES PVT. LTD. is committed to handling all incidents of workplace discrimination or harassment with empathy, fairness and accountability. Our remediation approach is designed to ensure that affected individuals receive the necessary protection and support, while the organization takes appropriate and proportionate corrective action. The process includes the following components:

1. Immediate Protection and Support: Upon receiving a complaint or identifying a case of discrimination or harassment, the company acts promptly to ensure the employee's safety and emotional well-being. This includes removing the employee from any threatening situation, providing access to a secure and private space and initiating urgent support measures.
2. Individual-Centered, Proportionate Response: A confidential meeting is conducted with the affected employee to understand their experience and specific needs. Based on the nature and severity of the incident, proportional remedial actions are identified ranging from temporary work adjustments to initiating a formal investigation. Support such as medical assistance or professional counselling is provided within 24 hours, along with interim changes in reporting structures, duties or location as needed.
3. Workplace Adjustments and Continued Support: To help with reintegration and recovery, measures such as adjusted schedules, internal transfers or continued access to transport, meals and other benefits are arranged. Employees who choose to continue with the company are offered skill-building or career counselling support, reinforcing their autonomy and inclusion in the workplace.
4. Transparency and Responsible Communication: All actions taken are documented and securely maintained with restricted access. The company maintains open and respectful communication with the affected employee throughout the process. Disclosure of any personal or case-related information is done only with the employee's informed consent. Stakeholders involved in the resolution process are clearly informed of their roles and responsibilities.
5. Monitoring and Follow-Up: Post-remediation, regular check-ins are held over the following weeks and months to ensure the employee feels safe, respected and supported. The effectiveness of the remedies is assessed through these follow-ups and additional adjustments are made if necessary to ensure continued well-being.

Learning and System Improvement: Every case is treated as an opportunity for institutional learning. Feedback from the employee and committee is used to improve internal procedures, strengthen training programs and promote a culture of accountability and respect. The effectiveness of previous remedies is also reviewed periodically to refine the response framework.

5.3. Inclusive Workplace Practices

CTX LIFESCIENCES PVT. LTD. is committed to fostering an inclusive workplace where employees from diverse backgrounds feel respected, valued and supported. The organization believes that inclusion strengthens collaboration, promotes innovation and enables individuals to contribute meaningfully to organizational growth.
Through structured initiatives and policies, the company strives to ensure equal participation, accessibility and opportunities for all employees.

5.3.1. Inclusive Work Environment for Differently abled Individuals

CTX LIFESCIENCES PVT. LTD. is committed to fostering a work environment where inclusion is embedded into the everyday culture of the organization. We believe that every employee, regardless of their background, identity or ability, should feel respected, supported and fully empowered to contribute and grow.
As an organization that values dignity and fairness, CTX actively promotes an inclusive atmosphere that enables persons with disabilities to participate equitably in the workplace. In line with the Rights of Persons with Disabilities Act, 2016 and associated rules, we are intentional about addressing barriers that may limit accessibility, participation or growth for differently abled individuals.
Key elements of our inclusive workplace practices include:

1) Equal Opportunity & Non-discrimination: The Company shall provide equal opportunity to differently abled persons considered for employment in positions where they could be employed. The company would also provide them with the necessary facilities and amenities to enable them to effectively discharge their duties for which they are employed.

2) Identification of positions & manner of selection: The jobs for which differently abled person could be considered would be identified by the HR Head in consultation with the respective Business Head. The positions that may be identified would be notified on the website of the company and to special employment exchanges as well as to authorities mentioned in the Right to Persons with Disabilities Act 2016. The people being considered for such positions would be notified of the recruitment and selection process as well as other associated rules of employment.

   The list of posts identified/notified suitable for people with disabilities in the establishment is totally on the discretion of the management. The positions so notified should not be construed as reservation. The Company will give first preference to candidates who are differently abled for those positions that are notified.

3) Manner of Selection: The Company adopts a transparent selection process based on merit and without any bias to the disabilities of the prospective candidate. Candidate with the necessary disability certificate issued in accordance with the Act by the competent authority will only be considered for the identified positions. In case such candidates are not found suitable or no such candidate is available, the company will recruit the candidates without disability in those positions.

4) Post Recruitment: Company will provide necessary training to the new recruits to enable them to carry out their jobs effectively. The necessity of training, its types and methods shall be determined by the HR department and its opinion shall be final. Wherever necessary, the qualified medical personnel of the Company will be consulted.

5) Leaves: The differently abled employees will be governed by rules of leave as applicable in the Company.

6) Accessibility: The Company should provide suitable infrastructure subject to practical feasibility to enable differently abled employees to have access to common facilities including physical environment, transportation, information and communications including technologies and systems without any inconvenience.

7) Awareness Campaigns: The Company shall conduct, support and promote at its location's awareness campaigns and sensitization programs through appropriate means to promote inclusion of differently abled persons.

8) Support and Oversight: A designated HR representative shall be responsible for coordinating support for differently-abled employees and overseeing compliance with relevant provisions of applicable disability laws.

9) Grievance: Any person having any grievance regarding this content of the Policy or its implementation should report the same to the Liaison Officer.

Compliance & Maintenance of Record:

HR will maintain appropriate records, in accordance with legal provisions, related to employment, workplace adjustments and support measures for differently-abled employees. These records will be used to monitor compliance and improve inclusive practices across the company.

5.3.2. Gender Equity Initiatives

CTX LIFESCIENCES PVT. LTD. is committed to ensuring equal opportunities, fair treatment and equitable access to resources for all employees, regardless of gender. To support this commitment, the company has implemented the following key actions:

- Equal Pay: Ensuring that employees receive equal compensation for equal work across all genders, in alignment with merit and role requirements.
- Promoting Leadership Roles: Actively encouraging and supporting the advancement of women and gender-diverse employees into leadership and decision-making positions within the organization.
- Inclusive Culture: Fostering a workplace environment where all genders feel valued and respected through ongoing training, awareness programs and inclusive workplace practices.
- Workplace Flexibility: Providing flexible working hours and, where feasible, remote work options to accommodate the diverse needs of employees of all genders.
- Women's Development Programs: Offering targeted initiatives to support the skill development and career growth of female employees, including:
    - Leadership Training: Programs designed to build leadership capabilities and prepare participants for managerial and executive roles.
    - Skill Enhancement Workshops: Sessions focused on both technical skills and soft skills such as communication, negotiation and conflict resolution.
    - Mentorship Opportunities: Access to experienced professionals who provide guidance, career support and knowledge sharing.
    - Networking Events: Facilitating connections with industry leaders and peers to encourage learning, collaboration and career advancement.
    - Work-Life Balance Support: Workshops and seminars aimed at helping employees maintain a healthy balance between professional and personal life to enhance overall well-being and job satisfaction.
- Safe and Respectful Workplace: We have zero tolerance for harassment or gender-based discrimination. Awareness training on appropriate workplace conducts and reporting mechanisms are conducted periodically to promote a safe and inclusive environment for all.
- Supportive Infrastructure: Facilities such as separate restrooms, secure commuting support (where applicable) and designated wellness areas are available to support the comfort and dignity of all employees.

5.3.3. Support for Diverse Groups through ERGs

At CTX LIFESCIENCES PVT. LTD., fostering an inclusive and supportive work environment begins with amplifying diverse voices and creating space for authentic connection, community and representation. As part of our broader Diversity, Equity and Inclusion (DEI) strategy, we actively encourage and sustain Employee Resource Groups (ERGs) that empower underrepresented and vulnerable employee communities. These groups strengthen belonging, advance equity and ensure that all team members can thrive both personally and professionally.

Each ERG is employee-led and supported by the Human Resources Department and senior leadership of CTX LIFESCIENCES PVT. LTD. They serve as safe spaces for dialogue, peer support and career development, while also offering critical feedback to help shape inclusive workplace policies.

ERGs are provided with:

- Access to training resources
- Use of internal communication platforms
- Company meeting spaces
- Dedicated budgets for initiatives and events

Currently Active ERGs

1. CTX Lifesciences Women's Network

Focused on the advancement and empowerment of women across all departments, this ERG facilitates:

- Professional development programs
- Mentorship circles
- Leadership coaching
- Networking events

It also advocates for gender-inclusive workplace policies, including parental leave, flexible work arrangements and career re-entry support.

2. CTX Lifesciences Young Employees Network

The CTX Lifesciences Young Employees Network is an employee group designed to support and engage early-career professionals within the organization. The initiative aims to create opportunities for young employees to learn, collaborate and grow while contributing fresh ideas and perspectives to the workplace.

Key initiatives include:

- Providing platforms for young employees to share ideas and collaborate across teams
- Organizing learning sessions, skill-building workshops and career development activities
- Encouraging mentorship and guidance from experienced professionals within the organization
- Creating opportunities for networking, innovation and professional growth

This network helps young professionals build confidence, strengthen their skills and actively participate in shaping the future of the organization.

3. CTX Lifesciences Working Parents Collective

A dedicated group for working parents and caregivers, offering:

- A space to share resources, experiences and work-life balance strategies
- Collaboration with HR to strengthen policies related to:
    - Flexible work schedules
    - Childcare support
    - Parental leave

Commitment to Growth
CTX LIFESCIENCES PVT. LTD. remains committed to expanding the ERG ecosystem as our workforce evolves. Employees are encouraged to propose new affinity groups that reflect their lived experiences and identities.

6. Responsible Labour Practices

6.1. Child and Forced labor Prevention & Remediation Policies

CTX LIFESCIENCES PVT. LTD. upholds the highest standards of human rights and strictly prohibits the use of child labour, forced labour and human trafficking in all aspects of its operations and supply chain. The company is committed to ensuring that all individuals are treated with dignity, fairness and respect and undertakes proactive measures to prevent, identify and remediate any violations.

Prevention of Child Labor

1. Zero Child Labor Policy: CTX LIFESCIENCES PVT. LTD. does not engage in or support child labour in any form. The company fully complies with the Child and Adolescent Labour (Prohibition and Regulation) Act, 1986 (amended 2016), ensuring no person below the legal working age is employed in any capacity.
2. Legal Compliance: CTX LIFESCIENCES PVT. LTD. strictly adheres to all applicable Indian labour laws relating to minimum working age, working hours, education requirements and working conditions.
3. Educational Commitment: CTX LIFESCIENCES PVT. LTD. does not employ anyone under the legal working age. We are committed to supporting education and strictly prohibit the engagement of minors in our operations, ensuring full compliance with all relevant laws and regulations.

Child Labor Reporting & Remediation Procedure
At CTX LIFESCIENCES PVT. LTD., we are fully committed to upholding the rights of children and preventing any form of child labor within our operations and throughout our supply chain. In the unlikely event that a case of child labor is identified, we follow a structured, compassionate and transparent remediation procedure that prioritizes the child's well-being while addressing the root causes and systemic gaps that may have contributed to the incident.
1. Reporting Pathways
Any employee, supervisor, supplier, contractor or community member may report a suspected case of child labor through the following confidential and accessible channels:

- Direct reporting to the Human Resources Manager or designated Grievance Officer via email: hrd@ctxls.com
- Use of the anonymous grievance mechanism, accessible via secure digital platforms or physical drop-boxes placed in designated areas
- Verbal or written submissions, accepted in the preferred language of the individual

raising the concern

All reports are treated with the utmost confidentiality and individuals who raise concerns are fully protected against retaliation under CTX LIFESCIENCES PVT. LTD.'s ethical workplace policy.

2. Responsive Remediation Steps

Upon verification of a child labor case, CTX Lifesciences takes immediate and responsible action with the child's best interests at the core. The following steps are implemented:

A. Tailored Support Based on Circumstances

- The child is withdrawn from the workplace immediately and respectfully, ensuring no harm or stigma is caused.
- A detailed case assessment is conducted to determine the child's age, education level, family context and economic background.
- A personalized remediation plan is developed in partnership with the child's family, which may include:
    - Enrollment in formal schooling or a skill-development program
    - Short-term financial support or livelihood assistance for the family, to prevent economic hardship resulting from loss of income
    - Access to counseling or social support services, when necessary, facilitated through external experts or NGOs

B. Stakeholder Engagement and Transparency

- Remedial actions are communicated clearly to the child's guardians and where appropriate, to local community representatives.
- Relevant child protection authorities or child welfare NGOs are informed to ensure alignment with national child protection standards and legal protocols.
- Internal reports detailing the incident and the remediation process are submitted to senior management and the Multi-Stakeholder Advisory Committee to ensure accountability and transparency.

C. Sustained Monitoring and Follow-Up

- The child's academic progress and overall well-being are monitored over time, in collaboration with educational institutions and local NGO partners.
- Follow-up contact is maintained with the child's family to support income stability and reduce the likelihood of re-entry into labor.
- Internal procedures are strengthened based on insights from the case, including enhanced supplier due diligence, robust worker age documentation and refresher training for supervisors, HR personnel and recruiters.

3. Systemic Improvements and Preventive Action

Each confirmed case of child labor initiates a broader review of CTX Lifesciences's systems and preventive controls. The follow-up process includes:

- A detailed assessment of recruitment and onboarding processes, especially in subcontracted and informal labor contexts.
- Updated training sessions for relevant staff and suppliers on child labor risks, early identification and reporting responsibilities.
- Analysis of grievance trends and reports via our anonymous feedback system to identify high-risk areas or repeated patterns.

- Policy improvements and preventive recommendations from the Multi-Stakeholder Advisory Committee, which includes external specialists in child protection and labor right.

Prevention of Forced Labor & Human Trafficking

CTX LIFESCIENCES PVT. LTD. is fully committed to upholding the principles of fair, ethical and voluntary employment. We maintain a zero-tolerance approach toward all forms of forced, bonded, indentured or involuntary labour in any part of our operations or supply chain. Our practices are in strict compliance with the Indian Bonded Labour System (Abolition) Act, 1976 and the Contract Labour (Regulation and Abolition) Act, 1970.

Key Provisions of the Policy

- Free Will Employment: All employment at CTX Lifesciences is entered into voluntarily. No individual is compelled to work under threat, coercion, deception or pressure. Employees are free to resign from their employment with reasonable notice in accordance with their contract terms.
- Freedom of Movement: Employees shall not be subjected to any physical or psychological restriction that unreasonably limits their movement during or outside working hours at or away from the workplace.
- No Retention of Personal Documents: CTX Lifesciences does not retain any original personal identification documents of employees (e.g., passports, birth certificates, academic credentials) as a condition of employment. Only verified copies are maintained strictly for record-keeping purposes.
- No Monetary Deposits or Debt Bondage: The company does not require any monetary deposits for employment and does not support practices that could result in debt bondage. Employment is not contingent upon repayment of loans or recruitment-related costs.
- Voluntary Overtime: Overtime work is always voluntary. No employee shall be forced to work beyond their scheduled hours, on rest days or on public holidays without their prior consent and due compensation in accordance with applicable labour laws.
- Emergency Leave Flexibility: In case of personal or family emergencies, employees may leave the workplace during working hours after informing their supervisor or line manager.
- Respect for Rest Days and Public Holidays: No employee will be obligated to work on rest days or public holidays unless they have voluntarily agreed to do so and are compensated in line with statutory provisions.

Reporting Mechanism

Employees, contractors, or third parties are strongly encouraged to report any suspicion or evidence of forced labour, bonded labour or human trafficking through the following channels:

- Direct reporting to the Human Resources Manager or designated Grievance Officer via email: hrd@ctxls.com
- Using the company's confidential and anonymous grievance mechanisms

All reports will be treated with confidentiality. CTX Lifesciences guarantees that whistleblowers will not face any form of retaliation or adverse consequences for reporting in good faith.

Remediation Measures

In the event that any incident involving forced or bonded labour is identified, whether directly within the company or in its supply chain, CTX LIFESCIENCES PVT. LTD. will act promptly and ethically to ensure the safety and recovery of the affected individual(s) and to strengthen our systems to prevent recurrence.

Tailored and Proportionate Action

- The affected individual is removed from the harmful situation and placed in a safe environment in coordination with competent NGOs, child protection agencies or law enforcement.
- A confidential needs assessment is conducted to determine the support needed—medical, legal, psychological or social.
- Emergency support is provided, including:
  - Temporary shelter and meals
  - Medical assistance
  - Counseling and trauma support
  - Legal aid (if required)
- A long-term reintegration plan is developed in partnership with the individual and relevant agencies, which may include safe employment opportunities or access to vocational education.

Transparent and Respectful Communication

- All actions are taken with the informed consent of the affected individual, communicated clearly in a language and format they understand.
- Personal details are not shared without explicit permission.
- Internal documentation is maintained for accountability and findings are shared with senior management and compliance teams.
- Key trends and non-identifying data may be disclosed through the company's CSR reports or sustainability updates to demonstrate transparency and commitment.

Monitoring and System Improvement

- Follow-up support is provided for a minimum of 12 months, with the assistance of social workers or NGOs, to monitor recovery, safety and well-being.
- The case triggers a thorough internal review of the following systems:
  - Recruitment practices, especially through third-party agents or subcontractors
  - Supplier due diligence protocols
  - Employment contracts and age-verification checks
  - Labour agent controls (e.g., zero recruitment fee policy)
- Mandatory training programs for HR teams, supervisors and supply chain staff are conducted or refreshed.
- Annual impact assessments are conducted to evaluate the effectiveness of the remediation and preventive measures and to identify areas for improvement.

External Stakeholder Consultation Strategies

1. Collaboration with NGOs and Community Organizations: CTX LIFESCIENCES PVT. LTD. actively partners with local NGOs and community-based organizations focused on child protection, labour rights and anti-trafficking initiatives to:
   - Conduct joint risk assessments to identify vulnerable groups in the supply chain.
   - Support community outreach programs educating families on the risks of child labour, forced labour and trafficking.
   - Implement community-based monitoring for timely violation reporting.
   - Facilitate safe removal of children from labour, provide access to education or vocational training and support reintegration.
2. Engagement with Government Agencies: CTX LIFESCIENCES PVT. LTD. collaborates with government bodies such as the Ministry of Labour and Employment and local labour inspectors to:

- Stay updated on legal requirements and best practices.
- Participate in government initiatives to eliminate child and forced labour.
- Facilitate inspections and audits of company operations and suppliers.

3. Formation of Multi-Stakeholder Advisory Committee: CTX Lifesciences has established a Multi-Stakeholder Advisory Committee comprising representatives from:
   - Local NGOs and advocacy organizations
   - Supplier and contractor entities
   - Company management and employee representatives

   This committee convenes on a quarterly basis to:
   - Review and evaluate the effectiveness of policies and procedures relating to child labor, forced labor and external stakeholder rights.
   - Recommend necessary updates based on stakeholder input and global best practices.
   - Promote transparency, accountability and collective ownership in upholding human rights standards.
4. Anonymous Worker Feedback and Stakeholder Consultation System: To foster open communication and early issue detection, we have implemented an anonymous and confidential reporting system of Worker's Voice Survey that:
   - Enables employees, supply chain workers and community members to report grievances or concerns without fear of retaliation.
   - Feeds into our stakeholder engagement and continuous improvement processes.
   - Allows us to act swiftly in investigating and addressing potential violations.
   - Builds stronger trust and collaboration among management, workers and surrounding communities.
5. Community Development Initiatives: Recognizing that child labor and human trafficking often stem from socio-economic vulnerabilities, CTX Lifesciences invests in community development efforts that:
   - Promote access to quality education for children in high-risk areas.
   - Support skill development and livelihood programs for youth and families.
   - Help build more resilient, informed and self-reliant communities around our operational footprint.

6.2. Employment of Young Workers

CTX LIFESCIENCES PVT. LTD. strictly prohibits the employment of young workers in any part of its operations. The company is fully committed to complying with all applicable labor laws and international standards that protect children and young individuals from labor. We take seriously our responsibility to safeguard the health, safety, education and overall development of young persons and therefore ensure that they are not employed directly or indirectly through our operations or supply chain.

The following measures are consistently applied across our company and are expected from all our suppliers and partners:

1. Minimum Age Verification – All employees must provide valid proof of age (such as government-issued ID, birth certificate or school records) to confirm they meet the legal minimum age for employment.
2. Supplier and Partner Compliance – Contracts with suppliers and business partners include mandatory clauses prohibiting child labor or the employment of young workers' below legal age.
3. Regular Audits and Monitoring – We conduct periodic internal reviews and supplier audits to ensure strict adherence to labor laws and our company policy.
4. Training and Awareness – HR teams, recruitment staff and suppliers are trained to recognize and prevent child labor risks.
5. Corrective Action and Remediation – If any violation is identified, immediate corrective actions are taken and remediation measures are implemented to protect the affected individual, such as support for continued education.
6. Reporting Mechanisms – Employees and external stakeholders have access to confidential reporting channels to raise concerns about potential child or young worker employment.

7.2. Recruitment and Selection Procedures

CTX LIFESCIENCES PVT. LTD. follows a structured and transparent recruitment process designed to uphold equal opportunity principles and ensure that hiring decisions are made fairly, transparently and free from any discrimination based on race, gender, age, disability or any other protected characteristic.

Hiring Selection Criteria

The following criteria guide our recruitment and selection process:

1. Skills and Qualifications: All candidates are evaluated based on the required educational background, technical skills and professional certifications relevant to the role.
2. Experience: Previous work experience, industry knowledge and role-specific expertise are considered to ensure the candidate's ability to contribute effectively.
3. Cultural and Ethical Alignment: Candidates are assessed on how well their values, integrity and work ethic align with CTX LIFESCIENCES PVT. LTD.'s ethical standards and collaborative work culture.
4. Structured and Transparent Evaluation: All applicants undergo standardized, competency-based interviews and assessments to ensure objectivity and consistency in selection.
5. Reference and Background Verification: Background checks are conducted in compliance with legal and ethical standards to confirm employment history, age, education and integrity.
6. Bias-Free and Non-Discriminatory Process: CTX LIFESCIENCES PVT. LTD. follows a documented, bias-free recruitment procedure that prohibits discrimination based on race, gender, age, disability, religion, sexual orientation, socioeconomic background or any other protected characteristic. Recruitment panels are trained on inclusive hiring practices and anonymized screening is implemented where applicable.
7. Diversity and Equal Opportunity Commitment: As part of our responsible business conduct, CTX LIFESCIENCES PVT. LTD. proactively promotes workforce diversity and social inclusion through targeted initiatives:
    - Differently Abled Candidates: CTX LIFESCIENCES PVT. LTD. actively recruits individuals with disabilities, ensuring the hiring process accommodates their unique needs. This includes accessible interview venues, assistive technologies and flexible communication methods to facilitate their participation. Once onboarded, tailored workplace adjustments and assistive devices are provided to enable seamless integration and maximize their productivity and comfort.
    - Women in the Workforce: Gender diversity is a cornerstone of the selection process, with specific measures to ensure women are encouraged to apply for roles across all levels. This includes flexible work policies, mentorship programs for career growth and efforts to bridge the gender gap in leadership positions. The goal is to create a supportive environment that enables female employees to thrive professionally.
    - Underrepresented and Vulnerable Groups: Special emphasis is placed on removing barriers that hinder the employment of underrepresented groups. Recruitment campaigns are tailored to engage individuals from economically disadvantaged communities, social minorities and vulnerable populations. Initiatives like outreach programs, partnerships with community organizations and inclusive job descriptions aim to create pathways for these candidates to access employment opportunities.
    - Generational Inclusion: Hiring strategies that balance the innovation of youth and the experience of senior professionals.
    - Cultural and Ethnic Diversity: Recruitment campaigns are inclusive of all ethnicities and cultures to foster a global mindset.

Recruitment Procedure

Step	Process	Additional Information
1. Job Analysis & Approval	Hiring needs are identified based on organizational growth and resource planning.	The department raises a requisition; HR evaluates the role and obtains internal approvals before initiating hiring.
2. Posting & Sourcing	Vacancies are announced internally and externally to attract diverse applicants.	Platforms include job portals, LinkedIn, company website, employee referrals and internal communication boards.
3. Resume Screening	Shortlisting is done based on qualifications, skills and experience.	HR manually screens profiles aligned to the role requirements and functional expectations.
4. Initial Screening	Preliminary interaction is conducted through telephonic or video interviews.	Focus on communication skills, motivation, basic qualifications and initial alignment with company culture.
5. Interviewing	Candidates go through structured in-person interviews.	Conducted by line managers and HR, covering technical, functional and behavioral competencies.
6. Assessment & Testing	Technical or situational tests are administered depending on role type.	May include design assessments, case studies or problem-solving exercises to evaluate real-world application.
7. Reference & Background Checks	Reference checks and background verifications are conducted.	Covers employment history, education, criminal record (if applicable) and identity checks for authenticity.
8. Final Decision & Offer	The selected candidate receives a formal offer letter.	The offer includes job role, reporting structure and terms in line with company policy.
9. Onboarding & Induction	New employees are welcomed through a formal induction program.	Includes orientation sessions, resource allocation, system setup and introduction to teams and workspaces.

7.3. Pre-Employment Verification

CTX LIFESCIENCES PVT. LTD. implements a comprehensive and unbiased background verification process for all new hires to uphold regulatory compliance, ensure workplace safety and maintain the integrity of the organization's workforce. This process is an integral part of the recruitment and onboarding procedures.

Scope of Verification

The background verification process includes the following checks:

- Employment History: Verification of past employment through reference checks with former employers to validate work experience and professional conduct.

- Educational Qualifications: Cross-verification of academic credentials directly with educational institutions or through certified documentation.
- Age Verification: Validation of age through legally acceptable documents such as the Birth Certificate, Aadhar Card or School Leaving Certificate to confirm compliance with legal minimum age requirements.
- Criminal Record Check: Where legally allowed, checks are conducted to verify any past criminal activity to safeguard workplace security.
- Professional Licenses or Certifications: If applicable, relevant licenses and professional certifications are validated for authenticity and current validity.

7.4. Onboarding and Employee Induction

To facilitate a smooth and compliant onboarding experience, all newly hired employees at CTX LIFESCIENCES PVT. LTD. are required to submit a specified set of documents as part of the joining formalities. These documents are essential to initiate payroll processing, ensure statutory compliance and activate employee benefits.

Document Checklist

The following documents must be submitted during the onboarding process:

- Proof of Identity: Valid government-issued ID such as Aadhar Card, Passport or Voter ID (both original and photocopy).
- Proof of Age: Any legally recognized document confirming the employee's date of birth, including:
  - Birth Certificate issued by a government authority.
  - Aadhar Card
  - School Leaving Certificate
  - Passport
  - Any other officially accepted proof of age.
- Proof of Address: Recent utility bill, rent agreement or bank statement reflecting the current residential address.
- Educational Qualifications: Verified copies of relevant academic degrees, diplomas and certificates.
- Previous Employment Records: Experience letters, relieving letters and professional references from past employers, wherever applicable.
- Bank Account Details: Account number and IFSC code to facilitate salary credit.
- Medical Fitness Certificate: If applicable, a health fitness certificate issued by a registered medical practitioner.
- Photographs: Ten recent passport-sized, coloured photographs.

Submission and Verification Procedure

- All documents must be submitted to the Human Resources (HR) Department during the onboarding session.

- The original documents are required for verification purposes and will be returned immediately upon validation. Photocopies must be submitted for the company's official records.
- As part of legal compliance, age verification is conducted by reviewing submitted documents to confirm adherence to labour laws regarding minimum employment age and the protection of young workers.
- Employees must ensure that all required documents are submitted on date of joining.
- Failure to provide complete or timely documentation may result in delays in processing salary, statutory benefits or onboarding formalities. Persistent non-compliance may lead to a temporary suspension of employment until the matter is resolved.
- The HR team will cross-check all submitted documents against internal policy and applicable legal requirements to confirm authenticity and completeness.

Support and Queries

Should you require any assistance or clarification related to the onboarding documentation process, please contact:

- HR Department: Visit during official working hours or email hrd@ctxls.com

7.5. Training, Probation Period and Confirmation Criteria

All newly appointed employees at CTX LIFESCIENCES PVT. LTD. are placed on a training period or probation period of six months, unless a different duration is specified in their appointment letter. During this training or/and probationary phase, the employee's performance, conduct, attendance and overall suitability for the assigned role are carefully monitored and assessed by the respective reporting manager in coordination with the HR department.

The training period or/and probation period may be extended if the employee's performance or behaviour does not meet the expected standards. Any such extension will be formally communicated in writing by HR. Upon successful and satisfactory completion of the training period or/and probation period, the employee will be issued a formal confirmation letter, signifying transition to permanent employment status.

In cases where performance remains unsatisfactory, CTX LIFESCIENCES PVT. LTD. reserves the right to extend the training period or/and probation period or terminate the employment, based on a fair, objective and transparent evaluation.

8. Performance Management and Career Development

- Feedback Support: Applicants receive feedback to guide future internal moves

9. Compensation and Employee Benefits

9.1. Principles of Fair Compensation

CTX LIFESCIENCES PVT. LTD. upholds a firm commitment to wage equality across all job roles and employee categories. Our compensation system is rooted in principles of fairness, non-discrimination and transparency. We ensure that employees performing equivalent roles, regardless of gender, ethnicity or background, are compensated equally for their skills, experience and contributions.

- Equal Pay for Equal Work: Employees are compensated based on their job responsibilities, qualifications and performance. We ensure there is no discrimination in salary for similar roles or responsibilities across gender, race or other protected characteristics.
- Transparent Compensation Structure: Our salary structure is designed to be clear and consistent across all levels, offering employees an understanding of how their compensation is determined. Employees can access the salary scales applicable to them in their contracts, ensuring transparency and trust.
- Periodic Pay Audits: To ensure fairness, we regularly conduct audits of wage structures to identify any potential discrepancies. If pay gaps are identified, corrective actions are taken to eliminate such disparities.
- Performance-Based Compensation: Employee performance directly impacts salary increases, bonuses and promotions, which are determined by merit rather than any biases or subjective factors. This ensures that all employees have equal opportunity for growth based on their individual performance.
- Overtime and Atypical Hours Work and Compensation: Employees required to work overtime, not exceeding 12 hours per week, will be paid at 2 times of their regular wages as mandated by the government. In cases of extra or atypical working hours, such as night shifts, public holidays, weekends or emergency situations, employees will receive compensation in accordance with legal requirements, either through double rates of their regular wages or compensatory off. This ensures fair compensation for work conducted outside of regular business hours.
- Compliance with Legal Standards: We comply with all relevant labor laws, including minimum wage requirements and actively monitor wage trends to maintain competitiveness in the market. This guarantees that all employees are compensated in accordance with or exceeding industry standards.
- Commitment to Diversity and Inclusion: We recognize that equal pay extends beyond wage parity to include a commitment to a diverse and inclusive workforce. Employees from all backgrounds, genders and experiences are provided with equal opportunities for advancement and remuneration.

9.2. Salary Structure and Payroll Administration

Our salary structure is thoughtfully designed to provide equitable and transparent compensation, recognizing the diverse needs of employees. Below is the detailed breakdown of the salary components:

1. Fixed Pay
1. Basic Pay (50% of Gross Salary)
    - The foundational component of the salary.
    - Determines other statutory and benefit-related contributions.

2. House Rent Allowance up to of Gross Salary
    - Provided to employees residing in rented accommodations to support housing-related expenses.

3. Allowances
1. Transport Allowance
    - Covers commuting expenses.
2. Washing Allowance
    - Provided to employees cleaning of aprons.

4. Variable Pay

Annual Bonus & Performance linked Incentives

- Employees are eligible for an annual bonus, as a fixed component of their compensation.
- Performance-linked incentives are given to employees based on their performance and achievement of specific targets. This can decide by management depending on performance outcomes.

Bonus Type	Eligibility	Details
Annual Bonus	Employees with 30+ days of service	A fixed amount of 8.33% of basic salary to be distributed before the filing of the Income Tax Return for the fiscal year.
Performance Incentives	Based on individual or department targets	Annual incentives based on performance metrics.
Gift Coupon	All eligible employees	A gift coupon during major festivals (e.g., Diwali)

All bonuses and incentives are included in the employee's Cost to Company (CTC) package

5. Benefits and Contributions
1. Provident Fund (PF) (12% of Basic Pay)
    - Employee and employer contribute equally towards retirement savings. The contributions are accumulated in the employee's EPF account, which can be withdrawn under specific conditions such as retirement, resignation or when the employee reaches the age of 58.
    - Tax-free up to the statutory limit.

2. Employees' State Insurance Corporation (ESIC)
   - Provides comprehensive medical care, disability benefits, dependent pensions and maternity benefits.
   - Eligibility: Employees Basic salary ₹21,000 or less per month.
   - Contribution Rates: Employee – 0.75% of gross salary; Employer – 3.25% of gross salary.
   - Benefits include hospital care, outpatient services and financial support during medical leave.
   - Employees can access their ESIC details through the official ESIC portal.

Scheme	Eligibility	Contribution	Details
PF	Employees actual Basic Salary.	Employee: 12% of basic salary, Employer: 12% of basic salary	EPF contributions are accumulated in the employee's individual EPF account and can be withdrawn under specific conditions.
ESI	Employees actual Basic Salary ₹21,000 or less per month	Employee:0.75%, Employer: 3.25%	Provides medical care, disability benefits and dependents' pension in case of work-related injuries.

Online Access: Employees can access their EPF and ESI details through the EPFO and ESI portals.

3. Medical Reimbursement (Applicable to Non-ESIC Employees, linked to Basic Pay and DA)
   - Under ESIC and Non-ESIC employees are eligible for reimbursement of medical expenses under Employee Medical Contagious Scheme (EMCS).
   - The reimbursement is applicable as per EMCS policy.
   - Eligible expenses include hospitalization, medical consultations, prescribed medicines and diagnostic tests, upon submission of valid bills or receipts to HR.
   - Claims must be submitted within the prescribed time frame for processing.
   - Tax exemption is available as per the provisions of the Income Tax Act, provided the expenses are genuine and properly documented.
4. Gratuity

   Gratuity is a one-time payment made to employees upon leaving the company after completing a minimum of 5 years of continuous service. The amount is determined based on the employee's last drawn salary and the total years of service. This payment acts as a reward for long-term commitment and is calculated using a standard formula as per statutory regulations.

   Gratuity= (Last Drawn Salary×15×Years of Service) ÷26

   - Explanation:
     - Last Drawn Salary: This includes basic salary.
     - 15 Days' Salary: Represents half a month's salary for every completed year of service.

- Years of Service: The total number of completed years the employee has worked. Partial years are typically rounded down to the nearest whole year.
- Divisor (26): Represents the average number of working days in a month (considering weekends).

- Gratuity is exempt from tax up to ₹20 lakhs under Section 10(10) of the Income Tax Act, depending on the length of service and the applicable rules.

5. Statutory Deductions

1. Tax Deducted at Source (TDS)

- TDS is deducted from the employee's salary as per the applicable income tax slab rates, based on the employee's taxable income. The deduction is made at the source of income, ensuring timely payment of income tax to the government. Employees can check the TDS deduction in their pay slips and can claim it when filing their annual income tax returns.

2. Professional Tax

- Professional Tax (PT) is a state-level tax deducted from an employee's salary as per the state's regulations. The amount varies depending on the state of employment and the salary bracket. This tax is deducted monthly and remitted to the respective state government.

6. Overtime & Compensatory off Pay

- Employees are entitled to get performance pay or worked beyond their standard work schedule.
- Work performed during holidays, weekly off days or non-regular hours (atypical hours) will be compensated at double the employee's hourly basic wage rate if they choose to receive additional pay instead of compensatory off days.
- Compensatory off days must be taken within 90 days of being accrued, subject to prior approval by the manager and business needs.

7. Annual Increments

- At CTX Lifesciences Pvt. Ltd, annual increments are granted once a year, effective 1st April, based on performance during the preceding financial year. The decision to award an increment is based on the financial position of the company, departmental performance and the individual's contribution as assessed through the performance management process.
- Performance reviews are conducted annually, in march, in line with the company's appraisal cycle.
- Employees who have joined in January month are not eligible for an increment from 1st April of the following year.
- It is clarified that annual increments are not automatic and are strictly linked to performance. Employees whose performance is assessed as below satisfactory may not receive an increment. All increments are subject to applicable income tax laws and statutory deductions.

8. Salary Disbursement Timeline

- Disbursement Date: Employees' salaries will be credited directly to their bank accounts on or before the 5th of upcoming months. This ensures timely and consistent payment.
- Salary Slips: A detailed salary slip will be sent to each employee via email. The salary slip will include a breakdown of earnings, deductions and other relevant details for complete transparency. Employees are encouraged to review their salary slips each month to ensure all information is accurate.

11.Workplace Standards and Conduct

11.1. Working Hours, Breaks and Overtime Regulations

Working Hours:

CTX LIFESCIENCES PVT. LTD. ensures that working hours are compliant with applicable labor laws while maintaining operational efficiency and employee well-being.

- The standard working week is 48 hours.
- Working hours and break times are clearly displayed on the factory and office notice boards for easy access and transparency.
- Employees are expected to follow these working hours unless alternative arrangements are specified by their department based on operational needs.
- One weekly off is provided in accordance with legal requirements.
- If employees are required to work on a designated weekly holiday, they are either granted Weekly off change or paid wages at a premium rate, as per statutory norms.

Breaks:

- Employees are entitled to a 1-hour lunch break each day.
- Additional short breaks may be allowed throughout the day as per operational requirements and with supervisor approval.

Compensatory Time Off for extra or a typical working hours:

- Comp time may be taken instead of overtime pay for extra hours worked on weekdays, weekends or public holidays, provided the work is pre-approved by the relevant manager or department head.
- Employees must coordinate with their manager to ensure business continuity. Unused comp time cannot be carried forward, encashed or added to annual leave.
- All comp time earned and used will be logged in the HR system for transparency and compliance.

Time-Tracking and Monitoring:

- CTX LIFESCIENCES PVT. LTD. utilizes a biometric/electronic attendance system to accurately record employee work hours and attendance.

- These digital records are regularly reviewed by the HR department through internal audits to identify irregular working patterns or unauthorized overtime.
- This system ensures compliance with internal policies and aligns with labor law requirements related to working hours.

Flexible Work Arrangements

- Purpose:
  The company offers flexible work arrangements to support employees in achieving a healthy balance between their professional responsibilities and personal or family needs. These arrangements aim to promote well-being, retention, and productivity.
- Types of Flexible Arrangements: Flexible work options may include:
  - Part-time schedules
  - Telecommuting / remote work
  - Flexi-time
  - Compressed workweeks
  - Job-sharing
  - Other variable work schedules based on role and operational feasibility
- Request Process: Employees seeking flexible work arrangements must submit a formal request via email to their immediate supervisor and the HR department at least one month in advance. The request should clearly specify:
  - The type of flexible arrangement requested
  - The proposed duration (temporary or permanent)
  - A brief explanation of how work responsibilities and productivity will be maintained

  All requests will be reviewed based on business needs, team dynamics, and the nature of the employee's role. A timely response will be provided, either approving the request or suggesting modifications.
- Eligibility:
  The availability of flexible arrangements depends on the nature of the employee's position and the operational requirements of their department. Roles that require physical presence, on-site supervision, or direct client interaction may be less suitable for certain arrangements.
- Performance Expectations:
  Employees must demonstrate consistent and satisfactory performance to qualify for flexible work. The ability to meet deadlines, maintain communication, and deliver results under modified conditions is essential.
- Approval Process:
  All approvals are jointly made by the immediate supervisor and the HR department, following a review of how the arrangement may affect collaboration, service delivery, and team workflow.
- Review and Adjustment:
  Approved flexible work arrangements are subject to periodic review to ensure they remain suitable for both the employee and the company. Adjustments may be made in response to business needs, performance considerations, or feedback.

- Compliance with Policies:
  Employees working under flexible arrangements must adhere to all applicable company policies, including those related to data security, attendance, confidentiality, and performance expectations

11.2. Attendance, Punctuality and Timekeeping

1. Adherence to Shift Timings: Employees must strictly follow their designated shift hours to ensure operational efficiency and team coordination.

2. Biometric Attendance System: Attendance is tracked using biometric systems at all entry points. Employees must mark their presence at the start and end of their shifts. Failure to do so will initially result in a reminder; repeated instances will lead to a written warning. Unregistered attendance without prior notice will be treated as unexcused and result in unpaid leave. Any system issue or missed punch must be immediately reported to HR or the reporting supervisor for manual rectification. Employees are responsible for ensuring accurate attendance records.

3. Grace Period: A 30-minute grace period in General Shift and 10 –minutes in shift are permitted for late arrivals. Employees arriving within this buffer are not required to inform their manager. However, they must compensate for the delay by adjusting their working hours accordingly. The grace period does not apply during:

   - Mandatory meetings or trainings
   - Critical deadlines or deliverables
   - Client or external stakeholder engagements

   - Reporting Late Attendance: Employees must notify their supervisor or HR in advance if they anticipate a delay. Communication should be done via:

     Email: hrd@ctxls.com

   - Contact No: +91-261-2399669 / +91-261-2398456

4. Official Work Outside Office Premises

   - Prior approval must be obtained from the reporting manager.
   - Employees must record departure and return timings in the “employee out pass” in pay roll system.
   - Employee Out Pass must be approved and sanctioned by security at the gate.
   - All exit and re-entry movements must be logged in pay roll system.
   - Travel during working hours must be included in attendance.

- Supporting documents (e.g., meeting records or receipts) must be submitted post-visit.

5. Unauthorized Absence from Work Area: Employees found away from their workstations without permission during shift hours will face disciplinary action per company standing orders.

6. Entry, Exit & Security Compliance

- All staff must use authorized gates and display ID cards at checkpoints.
- Unauthorized routes or entries are prohibited.
- Security personnel may conduct random checks on bags and vehicles.
- Female employees will only be searched by female security guard.
- Prohibited or restricted items must be declared to security at the time of entry.
- "Employee Out Pass" is mandatory for official and personal outings and must be recorded in pay roll system.

- Action plans are developed and shared with employees through meetings.
- Follow-up surveys monitor the effectiveness of implemented changes and ensure continuous progress.

We believe Employee feedback is integral for shaping a dynamic, supportive and rewarding workplace!

12.2. Grievance Redressal Mechanism

The grievance process, outlined in the document, provides an avenue for stakeholders to voice their concerns and gives transparency on how grievances will be managed internally, which aims to reduce conflict and strengthen relationships.

Employees may raise Grievances on various issues, including but not limited to:

- Child labor or forced labor concerns.
- Harassment, discrimination or Workplace violence.
- Breaches of workplace ethics or Code of Conduct.
- Occupational health and safety incidents, risks and concerns
- Working condition concerns.
- Human trafficking or violations of human rights.
- Workplace discrimination, violence or bullying.
- Workplace Harassment
- Retaliation related issues
- Maternity benefit-related grievances.
- Disputes regarding performance appraisals or salary reviews.
- Grievances related to termination or dismissal.
- Fraud, money laundering or unethical practices.
- External Human rights
- Disruptions affecting affinity or minority groups.

Definitions:

- Grievance: An issue, concern, problem or claim (perceived or actual) that an individual or community group wants addressed by the company in a formal manner.

- Grievance Handling Mechanism: A way to accept, assess and resolve community complaints concerning the performance or behavior of the company, its contractors or employees. This includes adverse economic, environmental and social impacts.
- Internal Stakeholders: Groups or individuals within a business who work directly within the business, such as employees and contractors.
- External Stakeholders: Groups or individuals outside a business who are not directly employed or contracted by the business but are affected in some way by the decisions of the business, such as customers, suppliers, community members, NGOs and the government.

Grievance Reporting Channels:
Stakeholders may submit grievances using the following formal channels:

- Email Submission: Grievances may be submitted in writing to the designated Grievance Handling Officer at hrd@ctxls.com.
- Telephone: For verbal reporting or urgent matters, concerns can be shared by calling the Grievance Handling Officer on +91-261-2398456 / +91-261-2399669 between 9:00 AM – 6:00 PM on working days.
- Complaint/Suggestion Box: A physical Complaint/Suggestion Box is placed within company premises and accessible 24 x 7 hours. Submissions may remain anonymous.
- In-person Reporting: Employees may request a confidential meeting with the Grievance Handling Officer or an HR representative. Appointments can be scheduled via phone or email for a safe and private discussion.

Grievance Information Guidelines: To support timely and fair resolution, it is recommended that submitted grievances (where possible) include:

- Name of the complainant (optional if submitting anonymously, particularly via the suggestion/complaint box)
- Department name and preferred contact details (optional, for follow-up)
- A clear description of the issue, including relevant dates, locations and names of individuals involved (if known)
- Supporting documents such as emails, screenshots or written records that help clarify the concern

Accessibility and Inclusion
To ensure equal access to the grievance process:

- All employees are briefed on the mechanism during on boarding and through periodic awareness sessions.
- Information is displayed in regional languages on notice boards and internal communication platforms.
- Assistance is available through HR for employees with disabilities, language challenges or limited literacy.
- Remote staff are given access to grievance channels via email and phone to avoid location-based disadvantage.

Roles and Responsibilities

Grievance Committee (includes heads from HRM, Legal & Secretarial, Production, Operations and Environment):

- Investigates grievances
- Develops and monitors resolutions
- Tracks and reports on grievance status

Stakeholder Contact Officer (Admin & Grievance Officer):

- Receives grievances and routes them to the Committee
- Ensures process compliance and maintains grievance register
- Documents all correspondence and stakeholder communication
- Follows up and reviews outcomes

Employees (CSR, IR, Admin, Environment Officers):

- Receive informal or formal grievances
- Submit reports to the Contact Officer via Grievance Lodgement Form
- Assist with resolution process and communication

Grievance Resolution Procedure

a) Receive

Grievances are received by the Stakeholder Contact Officer via any formal channel.

b) Record

All grievances are logged in the Grievance Register. Relevant documents are stored securely.

c) Acknowledge

Grievance is acknowledged within five working days.

d) Investigate

Investigation includes interviews, site visits and review of documentation. All activities are documented.

e) Act

An action plan is developed to resolve the issue. Responsibilities and deadlines are assigned.

f) Follow-up and Closure

Three weeks after resolution, the Contact Officer follows up to confirm stakeholder satisfaction and collects feedback.

g) Storage

All grievance-related records are securely stored. Confidentiality is maintained at all times.

Confidentiality

All grievances are handled with discretion and professionalism. Confidentiality safeguards include:

- Only those with a legitimate need-to-know are involved in the investigation and resolution process.
- Grievance records are stored securely and are not shared internally or externally beyond what is absolutely necessary.
- Anonymous submissions are reviewed with equal seriousness as named ones and all reasonable efforts are made to address the concern even without direct follow-up.

- If contact information is shared, all communication is conducted respectfully and privately to maintain the dignity of all involved parties.

Non-Retaliation Assurance

CTX Lifesciences promotes a culture where concerns can be raised without hesitation or fear. To that end:

- No individual who submits a grievance or participates in a grievance-related investigation will face adverse consequences or retaliatory actions.
- Protections extend to all forms of retaliation, including unfair job reassignment, denial of benefits, exclusion from professional opportunities or any form of harassment.
- Allegations of retaliation are investigated separately and, if substantiated, may result in corrective measures including disciplinary action.
- Our objective is to not only resolve specific concerns but to reinforce trust and ensure long-term organizational integrity through a proactive and fair response.

Remediation Process

Depending on the grievance nature:

- Immediate Actions: Suspension of involved parties, reassignment or stopping non-compliant activity.
- Investigation: Carried out by a neutral team with records maintained.
- Corrective Measures: May include warnings, training, process changes or termination.
- Ongoing Support: Counselling, schedule changes or medical assistance may be provided to affected employees.
- Monitoring: Continued observation ensures the issue does not recur and no retaliation occurs.

13.Separation and Exit Management

The following procedure will be followed in the event of employee separation from the company. Separation may occur for various reasons, including but not limited to:

13.1. Termination of Employment Procedures

Employees wishing to resign from their position at CTX LIFESCIENCES PVT. LTD. are expected to follow the procedure outlined below to ensure a smooth transition and maintain operational continuity.

1. Notice Period:
    - Employees must submit a formal resignation letter via email or hard copy of resignation letter to both their immediate supervisor and the HR department. This letter should clearly state the employee's intention to resign and include the effective date of resignation.
    - The resignation must comply with the notice period specified in the employment contract. If the employee is unable to fulfill the notice period, they must discuss alternatives with their supervisor and HR, which may include a compensation settlement in lieu of notice.
    - Failure to provide adequate notice may affect the final settlement process.
2. Acknowledgment of Resignation:
    - Upon receiving the resignation letter, the supervisor or HR department will acknowledge the resignation, confirming the receipt of the letter and the resignation date.
    - In some cases, a meeting may be scheduled with the employee to understand their reasons for resignation and discuss any concerns. This helps address any immediate issues and ensures the employee's transition is smooth and professional.
3. Handover of Responsibilities:
    - The resigning employee is responsible for preparing a comprehensive handover document. This document should detail;
        1. Ongoing projects, tasks
        2. their deadlines,
        3. and any essential information needed for the person taking over the role.
    - The employee must ensure that all responsibilities are transferred effectively to their colleagues or a designated successor before their last working day. This may involve shadowing the colleague or conducting briefings to ensure a seamless handover.
    - Any company property, files, documents or tools in the employee's possession must be returned as part of this process.
4. Exit Interview Scheduling:
    - HR will schedule an exit interview, typically to take place before the employee's last working day. The purpose of this interview is to gather constructive feedback regarding the employee's experience at CTX LIFESCIENCES PVT. LTD.
    - During the exit interview, the employee will have the opportunity to discuss reasons for resignation, workplace experiences and any suggestions for improving policies, culture or processes.
    - The exit interview will be conducted in a confidential and respectful manner and the feedback will be used to improve the working environment for current and future employees.

In cases where CTX LIFESCIENCES PVT. LTD. terminates the employment of an individual, the process is conducted with fairness, transparency and in full compliance with legal and ethical standards. Below are the detailed guidelines for termination:

1. Reasons for Termination:
    - Termination may occur due to various valid reasons, including but not limited to:
        - Performance Issues: Consistently failing to meet performance expectations, deadlines or objectives after receiving feedback and support for improvement.
        - Policy Violations: Breaching company policies or code of conduct, including misconduct, violation of workplace rules or engaging in unethical behavior.
        - Redundancy: Role elimination due to organizational restructuring, cost-cutting measures or the automation of specific tasks.
        - Other Valid Reasons: Any other reason deemed necessary, such as prolonged absenteeism, incapacity to perform the role or other circumstances that affect the employment relationship.
    - The employee will be informed of the reason for termination in a clear and transparent manner, with termination letter, necessary documentation and any evidence supporting the decision provided when necessary.
2. Notice Period:
    - Employees will be provided with a notice period as per the terms outlined in their employment contract, unless an immediate termination is warranted due to severe misconduct.
    - . Conversely, if the employee is unable to serve the notice period, compensation in lieu of notice may be requested by the company.
    - The terms of the notice period and its requirements will be outlined in the termination letter.
3. Documentation:
    - A Termination Letter will be issued to the employee, which will include the following details:
        - The reason(s) for the termination of employment.
        - The effective date of termination.
        - Any applicable severance package, including final salary, unused leave encashment or other benefits as per the company's policies and the employee's contract.
    - The employee will also receive an explanation of the final settlement process, which will include the payment of any outstanding dues or deductions.
    - All documentation related to termination, including performance reviews, warnings and correspondence, will be maintained in the employee's personnel file for record-keeping purposes.
4. Support Services:

- In cases where the termination is due to redundancy or other non-performance-related reasons, the company may offer outplacement support or counseling services to help the employee transition to new opportunities.
  - Outplacement Support: This may include job search assistance, resume building, interview coaching and referrals to recruitment agencies or job boards.
  - Counseling Services: For employees affected by the termination, counseling or emotional support may be provided to assist with coping and preparing for the next career steps.
- These services are aimed at ensuring that employees who are leaving CTX LIFESCIENCES PVT. LTD., particularly due to reasons beyond their control, are given the tools and resources to transition smoothly into new roles.

13.2. Separation due to Retirement or Superannuation

Employees retire at the age of 58 unless extended by management. The process includes:

- Employees will be notified in advance of their retirement eligibility and can request an extension or re-engagement by discussing it with the Management Authorities.
- A farewell gathering and retirement gift will be arranged as per the company's policies to recognize the employee's contributions.
- The final settlement, including gratuity (under the Payment of Gratuity Act, 1972), unpaid salary and leave encashment, will be processed.
- The employee will receive an Experience Letter and Relieving Letter to formally conclude their tenure.

13.3. Separation due to Death

In the unfortunate event of an employee's death, CTX LIFESCIENCES PVT. LTD. will manage the process with sensitivity and care. The HR department will oversee the following:

- Upon confirmation of the employee's death, HR will notify the relevant parties and offer condolences to the family.
- HR and finance will calculate final dues, including unpaid salary, leave encashment and applicable bonuses.
- Final payments will be made to the legal heir(s), after verifying the legal documentation (death certificate, will, etc.).
  HR will provide a statement of service and other relevant documents to the legal heir.

13.4. Full and Final Settlement Process

The final settlement process ensures that employees receive all dues and complete necessary clearances before leaving CTX LIFESCIENCES PVT. LTD. This process is carried out systematically to ensure accuracy, compliance with company policies and a smooth transition. The steps involved are as follows:

1. Final Pay Calculation:
    - The HR and finance teams will calculate the final settlement, ensuring all dues are accounted accurately. This will include:
        - Unpaid Salary: Any salary earned up to the employee's last working day, including overtime or bonuses if applicable.
        - Leave Encashment: Payment for any unused leave days, as per the employee's contract and company policy.
        - Bonuses, Reimbursement and Other Benefits: Any performance bonuses, incentives or other benefits due to the employee will be calculated and included in the final settlement.
        - Deductions: Any outstanding deductions, such as advances, loans or other liabilities, will be subtracted from the final payment.
    - The final settlement statement will be reviewed with the employee to ensure transparency and address any questions.
2. Asset Return:
    - Employees are required to return all company property at the Admin Department that was issued to them during their employment. This includes:
        - ID cards
        - Laptops, mobile phones, sim and other electronic devices (if applicable)
        - Tools and equipment
        - Documents or files containing proprietary or confidential information
    - The employee should ensure all items are in good condition and any company-owned software or systems are properly logged out or returned.
    - The Admin department head in coordination with the other required departments will verify the return of these assets and sign off on the clearance form.
3. No Dues Form:
    - A No Dues Form will be provided to the employee, which must be signed by relevant departments confirming the completion of the return of all assets and settlement of any outstanding issues.
    - The departments involved in the clearance process include:
        - IT Department: Verification of the return of electronic devices and deactivation of accounts and system access.
        - Finance Department: Confirmation that all financial dues and deductions have been settled.
        - Admin & HR Department: Verification of the return of physical assets (e.g., keys, office supplies).
    - The clearance form must be completed and submitted to HR before the final settlement payment can be processed.
4. Settlement Payment:
    - Once all clearance formalities are completed and the clearance form is signed, the final payment will be processed.

- The final settlement will be disbursed to the employee's registered account, typically through direct deposit or another preferred method of payment.
- The employee will receive a detailed breakdown of the settlement, including any outstanding payments or deductions.

5. Experience Letter and Relieving Letter:
   - As part of the final documentation, the HR department will issue:
     - Experience Letter: This letter outlines the employee's role, tenure and performance during their time at CTX LIFESCIENCES PVT. LTD. It will serve as a formal recognition of the employee's contributions and can be used for future employment reference. Experience letter is conditionally provided.
     - Relieving Letter: This letter will formally acknowledge that the employee has been relieved of their duties and has completed the exit process. It will confirm the effective date of separation and that the employee has no pending obligations with the company.
   - Letter will be provided in hard copy.

14.Discipline and Corrective Action

CTX LIFESCIENCES PVT. LTD. is committed to maintaining a respectful, safe and professional work environment. All employees are expected to comply with established company policies, procedures and behavioural standards. When these expectations are not met, appropriate disciplinary measures may be taken to address misconduct, ensure accountability and protect the organization's integrity.

Purpose of Disciplinary Action

Disciplinary action serves as a corrective tool to address inappropriate conduct or policy violations. The goal is to guide employees toward improved behaviour and reinforce organizational standards, not to punish, while ensuring fair and consistent treatment across all departments.

Grounds for Disciplinary Action

Disciplinary action may be initiated for, but is not limited to, the following reasons:

- Breach of the Code of Conduct or other company policies
- Unauthorized sharing or misuse of confidential information
- Workplace harassment, discrimination or threatening behaviour
- Theft, fraud or dishonest acts
- Wilful damage to company equipment or property
- Refusal to follow reasonable and lawful instructions
- Recurring absenteeism, habitual tardiness or persistent poor performance
- Breach of safety protocols or actions jeopardizing others' safety
- Misuse of internet, emails, social media or other communication platforms

Types of Disciplinary Measures

Depending on the severity and recurrence of the issue, the following actions may be taken:

- Verbal Warning: For minor or first-time violations; recorded by HR.
- Written Warning: Issued when verbal warnings are ineffective or for more serious infractions.
- Final Warning: A conclusive notice indicating further breaches will lead to stronger actions.
- Suspension: Temporary removal from duties, with or without pay, either as a disciplinary measure or during an ongoing investigation.
- Demotion or Reassignment: Applied in cases where continued assignment in the current role is deemed inappropriate.
- Termination of Employment: Enforced in cases of gross misconduct, legal violations or repeated offenses.

Disciplinary Process

- Upon identifying a potential violation, whether through observation, report or complaint—HR will conduct a preliminary assessment. If warranted, a formal investigation will be initiated, including evidence collection and interviews to ensure all relevant facts are obtained.
- The concerned employee will be given an opportunity to present their version of events. After thorough evaluation, HR in consultation with department heads will decide on suitable disciplinary action. The decision will be formally documented and communicated to the employee.

- Follow-up monitoring will be carried out, where necessary, to evaluate behavioural improvement and adherence to corrective measures.

Right to Appeal

Any employee who believes a disciplinary action is unjust or improperly imposed has the right to appeal. Appeals must be submitted in writing to the HR department within five (5) working days from the date of receiving the decision. The appeal will be reviewed by a neutral authority or senior management and the final decision will be provided in writing.

"Maintaining discipline is fundamental to the continued success of CTX LIFESCIENCES PVT. LTD. and we rely on the commitment of every employee to uphold the values, standards and professionalism that define our workplace!"

15.Records and Documentation

15.1. Employee Records Management

CTX LIFESCIENCES PVT. LTD. prioritizes the maintenance of detailed, accurate and regularly updated employee records to support effective workforce management, ensure compliance with applicable regulations and uphold transparency across all employment-related processes. Original documents belonging to employees are not retained by the company under any circumstances.

These records serve as a vital reference for monitoring employment history, guiding decision-making and aligning with organizational policies.

Purpose
The employee records management framework at CTX LIFESCIENCES PVT. LTD. is established to:

- Preserve essential details of employment history, milestones and achievements.
- Fulfil regulatory requirements and internal policies.
- Enable data-informed decisions related to workforce development, performance and training.

Components of Employee Records
Records are categorized as follows:

- Separation Details: Documentation related to resignation, termination and final settlement.

Processes

- Record Creation: All necessary data is captured during the employee on boarding process.
- Periodic Updates: Updates are made promptly in response to changes like promotions or departmental transfers.
- Employee Access: Employees may request access to their records and are notified of key updates.
- Secure Management: Records are securely maintained in physical or digital formats with limited access to authorized personnel.

Confidentiality and Accessibility
CTX LIFESCIENCES PVT. LTD. ensures all employee records are handled with strict confidentiality.

Controlled access is maintained and all practices align with relevant data protection and privacy laws.

Retention and Disposal
Employee records are retained in accordance with legal mandates or internal policy requirements. Upon completion of the retention period, records are securely disposed of through approved destruction methods such as shredding or digital erasure.

15.2. Document Retention and Disposal Policies

CTX LIFESCIENCES PVT. LTD. recognizes the importance of structured document management in achieving regulatory compliance, operational efficiency and safeguarding organizational records. Our retention schedule outlines clear procedures for classifying, retaining and disposing of records securely.

Framework for Record Management

1. Classification: Documents are grouped into categories such as employee records, finance, contracts, legal and operational files.
2. Retention Timelines: Each category is assigned a specific retention period in alignment with legal, business and industry requirements.
3. Security Protocols: All records are stored securely, either physically or digitally, with access limited to designated personnel.
4. Regular Updates: The retention schedule is reviewed periodically to reflect changes in regulatory standards or organizational practices.
5. Disposal Practices: Post-retention, documents are disposed of securely using shredding or digital erasure.
6. Employee Training: Relevant staff members are trained regularly on compliant and secure document handling procedures.
